13. Joke of the Month
(one of my favourite – direct translation from French – apologies for the mistakes) A man with a toad sitting on his head steps into a bar. The bartender is even more surprised when the toad says : "one whisky please" The bartender puts the glass down on the bar, the toad grabs it and drinks it. The bartender is stunned and jumped as the toad again says : "an other whisky please". Again the toad grabs the glass and drinks. The bartender can't stand it anymore and asks the guy: "but what the hell is this ?" To which the toad replies: "I don't know, I have this thing stuck to my butt since this morning".
